

Pacia Anderson

Selected Art Piece: Healing Touch

www.paciaelaine.com/

Like her poetic work, Pacia Elaine Anderson's commitment to community care has its roots in the church. Guided by deeply spiritual elder women who ministered in jails, volunteered as hospice caregivers, ran headlong into natural disasters, and fostered children,

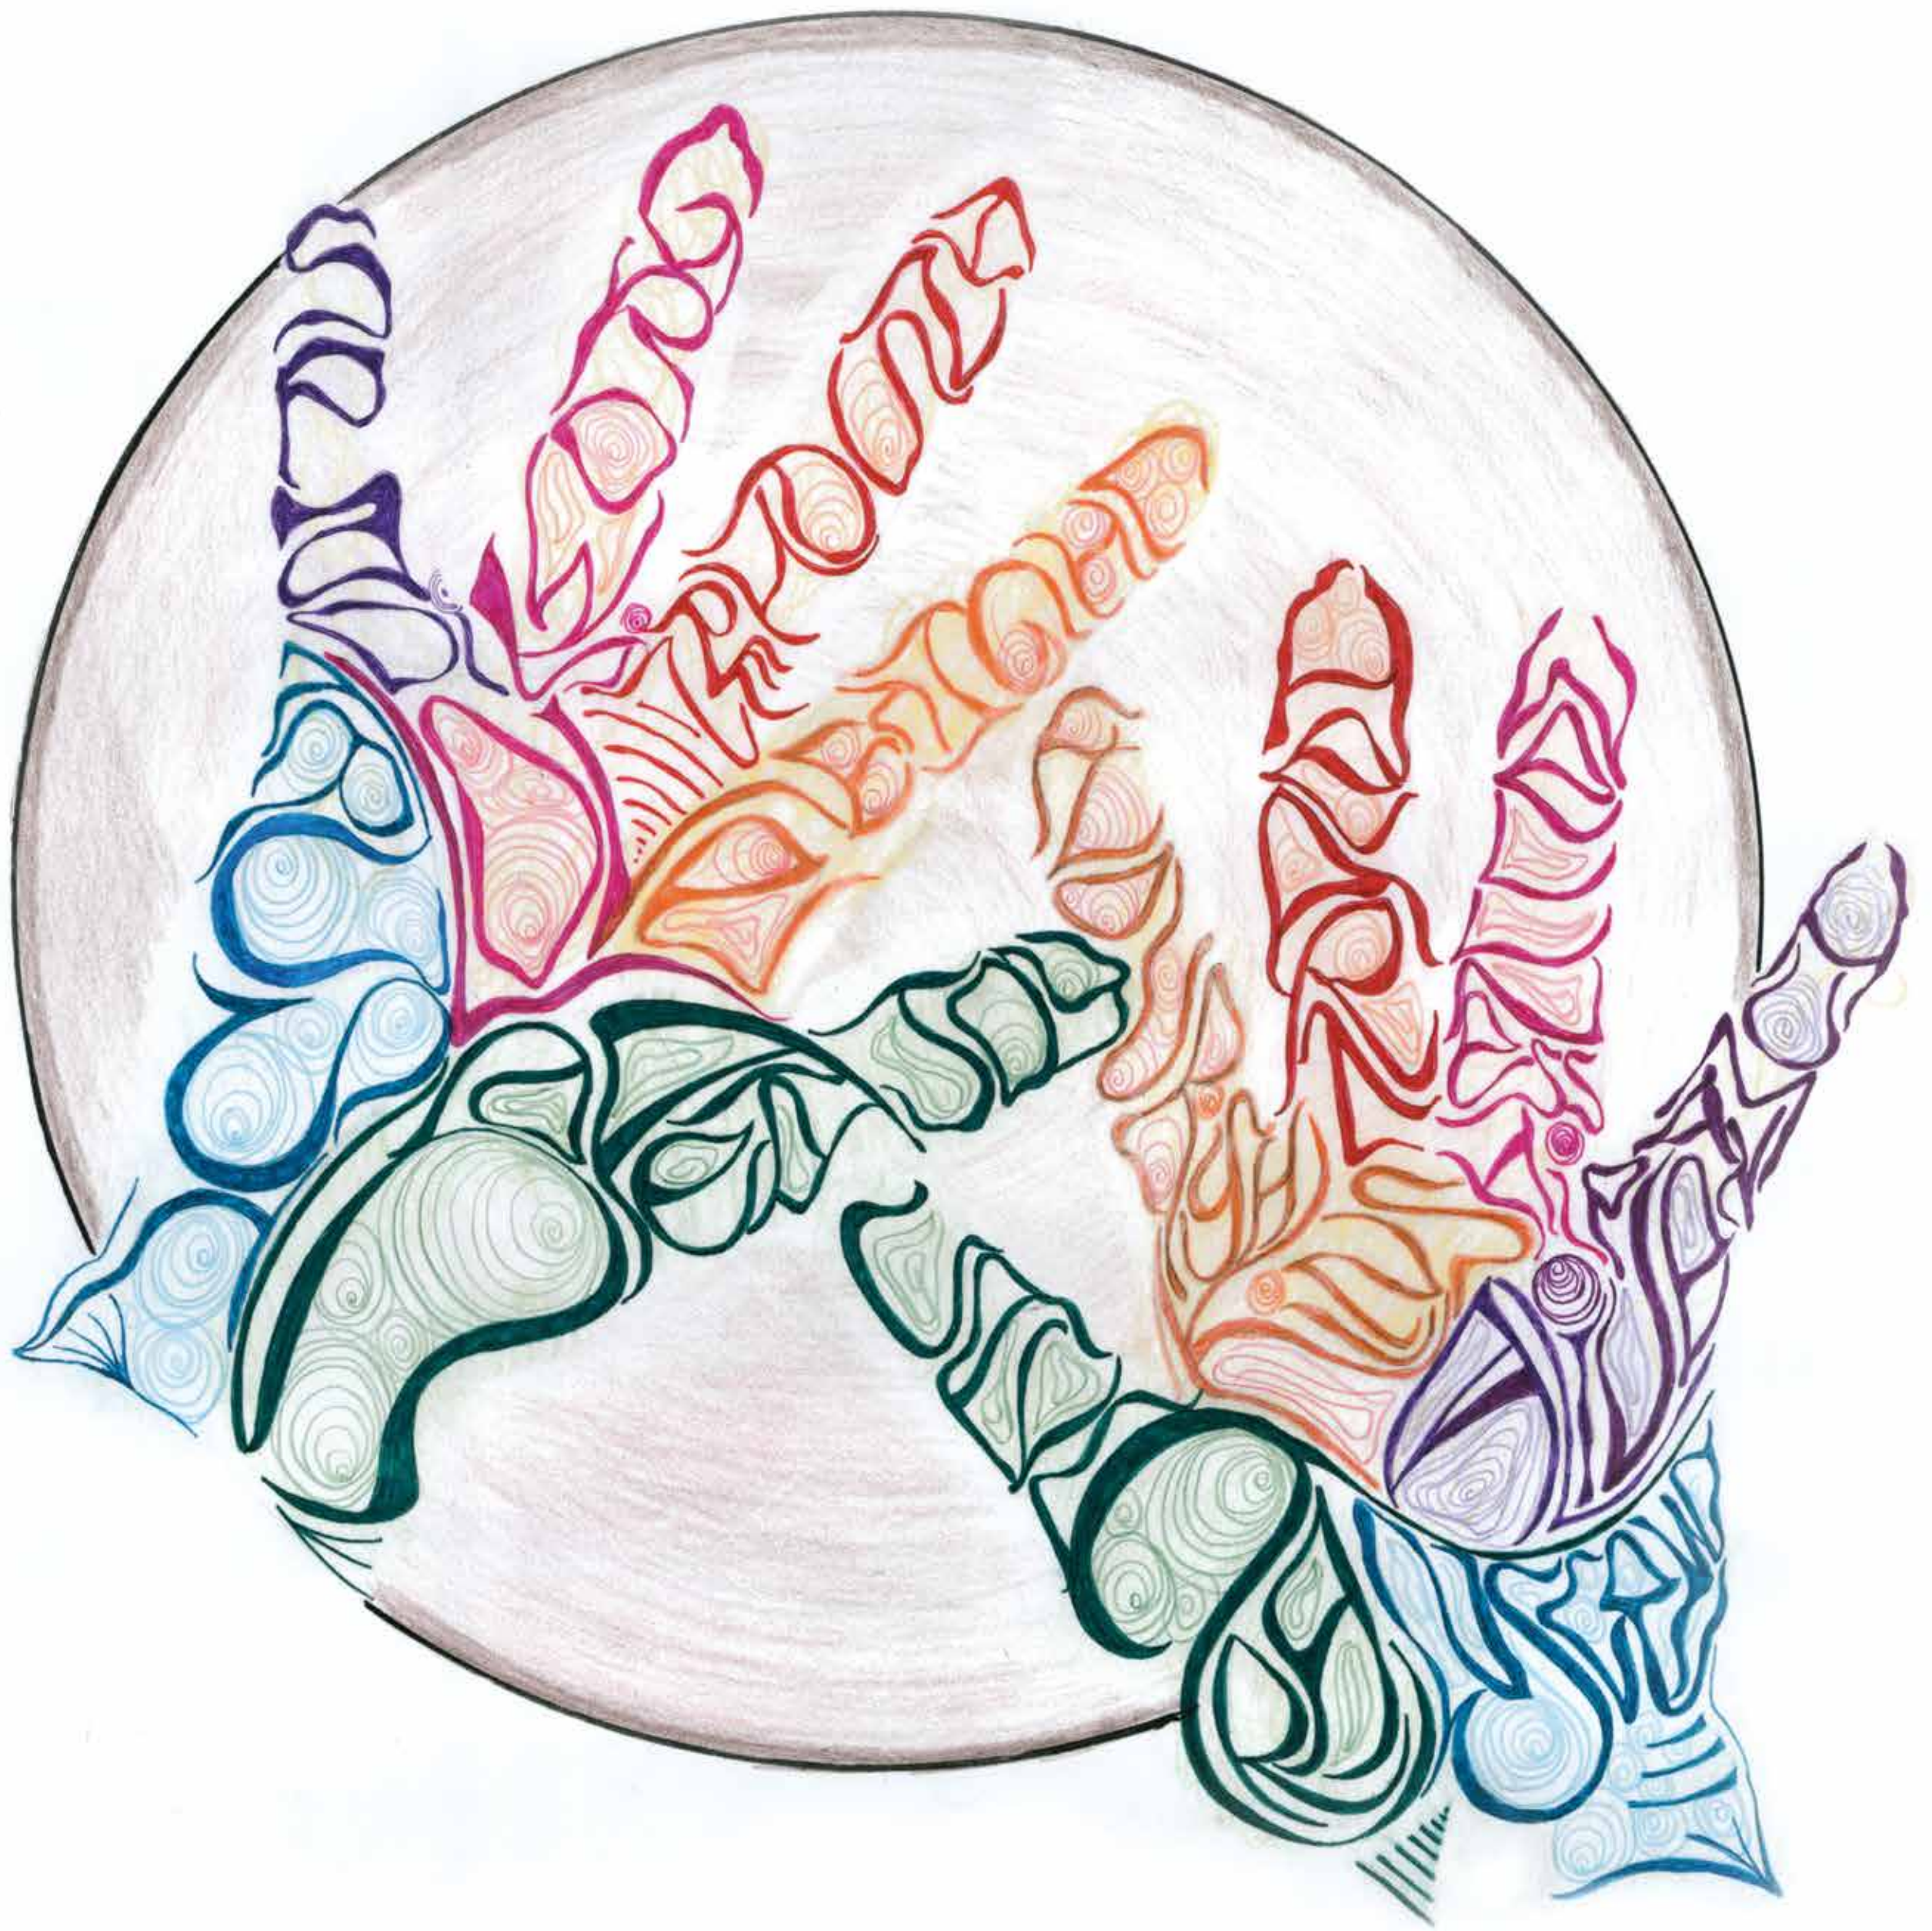

Pacia Elaine learned early that a purposeful life is one that is lived creatively, communally, and in the humble service of others. As an adult, this self-described Word Artist's work meets at the intersection of arts-learning and community development, with a focus on youth advocacy and the reclamation of the cultural traditions, and customs of the African Diaspora.

Pacia collaborates as a teaching artist, creative consultant, and community development and engagement strategist with numerous organizations and institutions, both locally and nationally. Her current community practice seeks to uplift the work of grassroots, neighborhood, youth-based initiatives such as Cherokee Street Reach, Good Journey Development Foundation, URB Arts, and Freedom Arts Education Center.

www.tiacrystal.com

A Visionary, Artist, Jewelry Designer, and Energy Healer, Originating from London England. Tia Crystal spent most of her time as an interior designer and raising her family. From a very young age Tia knew there was a deeper meaning to life.

In the Summer of 2004, a vision in a dream came to Tia one night, guiding her to Italy. In response, and with complete trust, she left to embark on a journey leading to a profound life changing experience. Whilst walking in silence in the countryside of Assisi, Tia stumbled upon an old paintbrush lying under a bush. Next to it, there was a bottle lid with a T on it. Everything within her told her to pay attention to the message within this brush and lid... Obeying the messenger that day, Tia began her journey as an artist. Her crystal encrusted art leaves one not only mesmerized but deeply transformed, with inner and outer peace. Today, her work hangs in a variety of galleries, resorts, and private residences around the world. Unmatched in color, scope, variety, and deep spiritual meaning, Tia's unique eye for style and creative elegance is showcased through all of her creations. Featured in numerous magazines and publications, such as the National Geographic, for her series of "World Peace Art" that was signed by Tribal Leaders from around the world. Tia's artistic talent was formally recognized in 2012. Exhibiting in one of New York's most prestigious art shows, Art Expo, Tia was awarded the accolade as one of the top 10 artists.

Today Tia is a advocate for PEACE.
